

Dental Trauma Guide

the evidence based treatment guide

Introducing

The New Dental Trauma Guide

Background

Dental Trauma Guide is the world leading, web-based tool to evidence based dental traumatology. The Dental Trauma Guide is rooted in the University Hospital of Copenhagen, Rigshospitalet, and is a research based non-profit organization. Since its start in 2008, the Dental Trauma Guide has been funded by a number of foundations and has thus been able to provide its services free of charge to the more than 350.000 annual users from all over the world. This source of funding is no longer available.

New subscription-based Dental Trauma Guide

From 1st January 2017 the Dental Trauma Guide will be a subscription-based, paid-for-service. This will ensure the long term viability of the Dental Trauma Guide to the benefit of the professional users and their patients. The New Dental Trauma Guide will still be the world-leading tool in the field of evidence based, dental traumatology with easy-to-follow, animated treatment demonstrations. It is still anchored in the University Hospital of Copenhagen, and it will still be recognized as the legacy of Dr. Odont. H.C. Jens Ove Andreasen. The New Dental Trauma Guide is also still research based and non-profit.

Improved website

The New Dental Trauma Guide will feature an improved website with a user-friendly design. The design ensures even faster diagnosis and treatment planning plus individual prognosis for a given case. The New Dental Trauma Guide will still host regular symposiums in the field of dental traumatology and will offer a range of additional, free-of-charge services to its subscribers.

The New Dental Trauma Guide will be launched 1st January 2017 and it will only be accessible as a full range, illustrated diagnostic and treatment planning tool including guidelines as a paid-for-service. The texted guidelines issued by I.A.D.T. will continue to be offered free of charge, however.
